Free-roaming Cat Rooms Open for Business

The Humane Society of Washington County will host a grand opening for its newly renovated free-roam cat adoption facility on Saturday, April 6, 2019 at the Humane Society of Washington County, 1900 Nevin Street, Funkstown, Maryland.

The room will be open to the public during normal business hours — 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. — and light refreshments will be served.

The renovation was made possible thanks to an innovation grant from Maddie’s Fund. The former cat-adoption room contained of kittens that had persisted cats separately. The new room allows cats to roam and play in a more natural environment. The new room includes catwalks, catways, shelves, cat-play areas, and a telephone for cat calls that pets can hear.

“By eliminating isolation and making it easier for cats to engage in more natural behaviors, we hope to decrease the amount of stress that they feel while at the shelter,” said Norcin Johnson, director of development, marketing, and artist care.

The shelter is located at 1900 Nevin Street in Funkstown, Maryland.
