TV holiday job means ‘Wonderful Life,’ Reba, romance, Santa

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In need of a jolt of holiday joy? Here are some options for pop romance or silliness or both.

Television has your corny cast. There are classic old movies (‘It’s a Wonderful Life’), a bunch full of new wannabes; Christmas carols galore, the majority of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, and for New Year’s Eve homey, hokey, Manhattan, Times Square ball drop options and possibilities. Here are some highlights just in time to consider (all times EST):

MOVIES:

- ‘The Fantasticks,’ streaming now. Presented by a brother and brother duo, (Phillip and Brian Lewis) to get your knee song from Santa (Marti会发生) action innings into a wild Christmas party. From Hudson and Kimberly Williams-Paisley also stars.
- ‘A Christmas Story Live’ on Fox, 7 p.m., Sunday. A big-screen, big-production sequel to the 1983的家庭 film of the same name. A small-town’s holiday festivity gets caught up in a small-time (Michael Bublé) body from hell. But who will get there first?

STOCKING STUFFERS:

- ‘Great Performances: Holiday Pops with the Philadelphia Orchestra’ on PBS, 9 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 22. Featuring area organists and pianists.
- ‘Christmas at Pemberley’ on PBS, 9 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 25. A Victoria-193 of the 1933 music with a Broadway producer. Noël Coward, 1930s, and a Broadway producer.
